Submit your proposal to the 2018 Ideas4Action Competition!

If you have a passion for international development or social entrepreneurship, we highly encourage you to submit your idea to our 2018 Ideas for Action competition. The Ideas for Action competition is a joint initiative between the World Bank Group and the Zicklin Center for Business Ethics Research at Wharton School, University of Pennsylvania that empowers young leaders to share their ideas for financing and implementing the UN's Sustainable Development Goals. Winners will present their ideas at a special event during the Annual Meetings of the IMF and the World Bank Group, receive support from a startup accelerator, and will benefit from unique knowledge sharing and networking opportunities.

Please visit our website www.ideas4action.org to register for the upcoming competition, to submit your proposals, and to receive all related updates. The timeline is as follows:

- Deadline for full proposal submissions: February 28, 2018
- Deadline for final submissions*: early April 2018
- Announcement of winners: May 31, 2018

We encourage you to submit your proposals at your earliest convenience. Please feel free to reach out in case you have any questions or concerns.

Thank you again and we hope to hear from you very soon!

Best regards,
Your I4A Team
